London – 22 September 2009. Sapphire is pleased to announce that it has been awarded the Infor FMS SunSystems Partner of the Year accolade.

Ian Caswell, Sapphire's Managing Director, accepted the award at Infor's recent Channel Partner Conference in Baveno, Italy. The event brings together Infor's EMEA Channel Partner community for its annual exclusive conference designed to recognize, reward and celebrate Infor's ever growing partner community.

Presentations were delivered by senior Infor executives in relation to Infor's company performance, technology strategy, future plans, plus an update on the Infor Extended Solutions portfolio.

Tim Szabronski, Regional VP, Infor Channels EMEA, said "Sapphire continues to impress with high levels of service and support for Infor FMS SunSystems customers and we are pleased to recognise their sales efforts of the past year with this award. In addition to being the number one partner for Infor FMS SunSystems, Sapphire is in fact the second largest Infor partner in EMEA. Furthermore Ian Caswell has recently been appointed to Infor's Channel Advisory Council in recognition of Sapphire's relationship with Infor. Sapphire is an important channel partner for Infor and we look forward to working with Sapphire for many more years to come."

He went on to add "I attended Sapphire's SunSystems User Day last week where I had the opportunity to see first hand the customer focused initiatives that the Sapphire team are working on. The customers I spoke to gave positive feedback on Sapphire, in particular Sapphire's Support Desk, and the day was very informative and well received."

"We are absolutely thrilled to be number one for SunSystems for another year" commented Ian Caswell, "SunSystems is a flexible financial accounting solution with reporting and analysis capability that can't be beaten. We pride ourselves on providing our customers with best in breed solutions and SunSystems definitely fits the bill."
