LONDON, UK – 20 August 2009. Sapphire is pleased to announce that it has been named by Professional Advantage as Reseller of the Year 2009.

Sapphire has been working with Professional Advantage, developers of software products that enhance the value of leading international software solutions including the Infor FMS SunSystems range, for over 10 years.

“It is with great pleasure that Professional Advantage awards Sapphire Systems the PA Reseller of the year for 2009” said Steve Howcroft, Joint Managing Director at PA, going on to say “Whilst this has been a challenging 12 months for many, Sapphire has driven impressive growth of the PA companion products for Infor FMS SunSystems particularly with iPOS eProcurement. Their success in adding value through process improvements within both existing and new solutions supports the powerful value proposition of a quality services partner with world class, innovative software. Sapphire has been a PA partner for many years, and it is great to see them leading the pack once again.”

David Singh, Sales & Marketing Director at Sapphire said “We are delighted to be recognised by Professional Advantage as their reseller of the year, it has been a great team effort. We have noticed that during these tough times Infor SunSystems users have wanted to drive more efficiencies from their software; the PA solutions are perfect: by making a small additional investment in the add on modules, SunSystems users have benefited from both operational efficiencies and cost savings, particularly in the areas of procurement with iPOS and also electronic payment processing with PA’s Cash Desk Suite.”
